Intentional Slow Growth

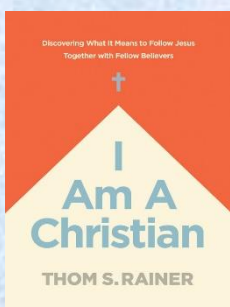

As our theme this year is “Grow” - we are committed to deepening our relationship with God. Our concept of growth is not rapid expansion but rather a slow, steady development nurtured by consistent and faithful devotion to knowing God. This quarter, we have begun a number of activities to support this intentional growth in Christian living.

Preaching and Reading through the Entire Bible

I deeply admire the Bereans for their eagerness to receive the message and their diligence in studying the Scriptures (Acts 17:10-12). Their example inspires and motivates me to embark on this epic journey of preaching and reading through the entire Bible.

As we commit to reading two chapters a day, may you discover the “pearl of great price”—the God of the Bible. Uncovering His nature, works, and character together will be one of the greatest milestones we achieve as a church. Jesus is the common thread binding us together in this journey of faith.

“I Am A Christian” Foundation Course

I am so inspired to see these 18 participants join our new foundational course, “I Am A Christian.” Their commitment demonstrates a genuine desire among people to find their identity in God. I'm thrilled to have discovered this course by Thom Rainer, as it aligns perfectly with my vision for new believers to develop a solid and strong identity rooted in Christ, reflected both in their being and their actions.

I envision this course will provide a profound understanding of what it means to be a follower, a believer, a church member, a disciple, a servant, a witness, a prayer warrior—in essence, what it means to be a Christian.

Quarterly Prayer Meeting

Our prayer group is gaining momentum, with seven people attending on May 31st. The hour of prayer passed quickly as spontaneous, fervent intercessions were made for nations, leaders, the Church, and personal requests. A newcomer testified, “I never thought I could pray like that. It was an amazing experience.”

Cultivating a prayerful culture is a core value of LCC that we will continue to nurture, and I hope to see the entire congregation join in this prayer movement.
